As an aside I think it's time to recall what jobs we did over the winter so you will know why things were done. At both indoor venues the joints in the back-stop netting have all been laced together so no gaps should exist for those pesky arrows to go through. The net props at Percy Hedley have been a constant source of trouble for me over the winter, either by going missing, or becoming damaged. We have made two net supports to top the red school posts and these will support the nets to a good height. Just, please, make sure the tops are returned to the club 'box' after use. The net rope ends have also been replaced over the winter and 'stops' added so the rope should no longer unwrap from the pulleys. The ropes have been in use for some years and were beginning to fray, especially at Churchill. And now to outdoors stuff!
